Privacy Statement

GY Properties and City Living Philly understands that the collection and dissemination of personally identifiable information may be of concern to users of the site. Because the web site gathers certain types of information, users should fully understand the terms and conditions surrounding the capture and release of that information. The following discloses information gathering and dissemination practices for GY Properties and City Living Philly.

Information Gathered

The site's contact form requires users to provide contact information such as name and e-mail address. The user also has the option of providing GY Properties and City Living Philly with additional personal information and individual preferences. GY Properties and City Living Philly encourages users to fill in this information so that the content of the site will accurately reflect users' dominant areas of interests.

Cookies

A cookie is a small data file that certain Web sites write to the user's hard drive when he or she visits the site. A cookie file can contain information, such as user ID, that the site uses to track pages the user has visited. The site will gather and store any other information voluntarily provided by users. GY Properties and City Living Philly may also use cookies to anonymously track users' sessions (i.e., pages visited, frequency of visit, etc.).

Use of Information

GY Properties and City Living Philly uses the information gathered in aggregate to identify the dominant areas of interest of users and better prepare future content of the site. The goal is to constantly improve the value of the materials on the site.

Sharing of Information

GY Properties and City Living Philly does not share personally identifiable information with any other entities. However, users are advised that information maintained by GY Properties and City Living Philly may be disclosed in connection with judicial or administrative proceedings or if in the sole discretion of GY Properties and City Living Philly disclosure is necessary to protect City Living Philly.

External Links

This site contains links to other sites. If users decide to follow those other links, GY Properties and City Living Philly is not responsible for the privacy policies and content of those sites. Users should contact the coordinator of the particular site with any questions about those sites.
